I. Identify the types of sentences for the following.

1. What time does the train leave?   Ans. Question

2. The elephant is the largest land animal.   Ans. Statement

3. Close the door when you leave.   Ans. Command

4. Cats make wonderful pets.   Ans. Statement

5. Why do birds sing in the morning?   Ans. Question

6. Turn the light on.   Ans. Command

II. State whether the given sentences are true or false.

1. A statement gives a command.   False

2. A question ends with a full stop.   False

3. A command is a sentence that asks for something.   False

4. A statement tells us something.   True

5. A question asks something and ends with a question mark.   True

III. Change these sentences from statements to questions.

> Statement: Cheetahs can run very fast to catch their prey.
>
> Question: Can cheetahs run very fast to catch their prey?

1. Statement: She will visit her grandmother tomorrow. (Will)
   Question: Will she visit her grandmother tomorrow?

2. Statement: I can finish my homework before dinner. (Can)
   Question: Can you finish your homework before dinner?

3. Statement: She could win the game (Could)
   Question: Could she win the game?

4. Statement: I love to visit the zoo. (Do)
   Question: Do you love to visit the zoo?

5. Statement: Sam enjoys reading books. (Does)
   Question: Does Sam enjoy reading books?

6. Statement: They are going to the park to play soccer. (Where)
   Question: Where are they going?